CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

Licensed Psychologist and Owner 2021–

Panorama Therapy, PLLC

Panorama Therapy is a private psychology practice that serves individuals, couples, and groups in 42+ states. Within the practice, I focus on affirming treatment for LGBTQ+ populations, Mixed and multiracial adults, and third culture kids. Through this practice, I also provide consultation and training to other clinicians and organizations on diversity, equity, inclusion, & belonging; interpersonal workplace incidents; LGBTQ+ affirming therapy; and clinical work with multiracial and Mixed race communities.

Licensed Psychologist and Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Officer 2019–2021

Presence Wellness Inc., formerly Austin Professional Counseling, PLLC

Austin, TX

Former supervisor: Tracy Carver, Ph.D.

Austin Professional Counseling is a private practice that offers outpatient services to the Central Texas community. The practice is housed within Presence Wellness, an integrated health center for counseling, personalized medicine, psychiatric care, therapeutic yoga, genetic counseling, and nutrition counseling. With the practice, I provided short- and long-term psychotherapy to individuals, couples, and groups who often presented with identity-related concerns, depression, anxiety, trauma, and interpersonal concerns. I focused my work on the LGBTQ+ populations and on Black, Indigenous, and people of color. I also consulted on and promoted diversity, equity, and inclusion within and outside the practice.

Highlights of experience:

- Collaborated with interdisciplinary medical and helping professionals
- Trained in and practiced neuroscience-informed couples therapy (Advanced Couples Therapy Training Group, John Howard, LPC, LMFT) and experiential, emotion-focused approaches (Minding the Heart, Tori Olds, Ph.D.)

Doctoral Psychology Intern

2018–2019

Texas A&M University Counseling and Psychological Services

College Station, TX

APA-Accredited Internship

Supervisors: Robert Carter, Ph.D., ABPP; Jason Hindman, Ph.D., ABPP

Texas A&M University Counseling and Psychological Services (formerly Student Counseling Service) is a university counseling center delivering psychotherapy, outreach, and crisis services to diverse populations, including international, undocumented, first generation, and non-traditional students. As a full-time intern, I provided short-term individual, couples, and group therapy for a range of psychological concerns, with much of my caseload presenting with high levels of distress. My work included on-call crisis intervention, formal intakes, and psychological testing and assessment. I conducted extensive outreach, and as a suicide prevention training team member, I trained gatekeepers in suicide prevention. I also served on the Diversity Initiatives Committee; the Clinical Services Committee, which sets administrative policy and procedure for the agency; and the Social Justice Conference Committee, which plans and executes the Social Justice in College Counseling conference.

Highlights of experience:

- Year-long training in couples therapy, featuring didactics and weekly supervision
- Training rotation in trauma work; trauma-focused caseload, readings, and weekly supervision
- Specialized training in Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) and Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT); extensive readings and weekly supervision
- Training option in Buddhist thought in psychotherapy, involving close readings and weekly supervision around integrating multicultural approaches to therapy
- Supervised a doctoral level practicum student
- Provided outreach workshops on stress, anxiety, depression, services, and suicide prevention
- Extensive intake experience including triage assessments and case management
- Advanced assessment training in career and personality evaluations
- Group therapy experience co-leading an Understanding Self and Others process group, LGBTQ+ process group, and Embracing Your Self Worth group
- Facilitation of weekly staff discussions on race, diversity, and culture

Practicum Counselor

2017–2018

St. Edward's University Health & Counseling Center

Austin, TX

Supervisors: Julia Zenteno-Montez, Psy.D.; Erin Jenkins, Ph.D.

St. Edward's Heath & Counseling Center is an integrated university counseling center providing psychotherapy, outreach, and crisis services to a diverse student population. As a practicum therapist, I provided brief, individual psychotherapy to students presenting with a range of psychological concerns related to mood, anxiety, interpersonal issues, academics, development, sexuality, culture, and trauma. Administrative duties included maintaining electronic client records, safety planning, and scheduling clients.

Highlights of experience:

- Provided brief therapy (6 sessions) with diverse students at a Hispanic-Serving Institution
- Completed triage intake assessments
- Training and exposure to couples counseling
- Monitored client progress and provided therapeutic assessment feedback using CCAPS
- Conducted outreach activities in the St. Edward's University and broader communities

Practicum Counselor

YWCA of Greater Austin

Supervisor: Maya Amos, LCSW, SEP

2016–2017

Austin, TX

YWCA of Greater Austin provides reduced-cost outpatient psychotherapy services to children, families, and adults in the broader Austin community with a special emphasis on trauma-informed care. YWCA works toward the mission “Eliminating Racism. Empowering Women.” As a practicum therapist, I served low-income children, adolescents, women, and groups on a brief model (10-session limit). Most of my clients received services free of charge, thanks to a grant for crime victims.

Highlights of experience:

- Provided on-site counseling at Texas Senate Bill 6 and House Bill 2899 hearings (“transgender bathroom bills”)
- Conducted triage intake assessments and psychological assessments
- Co-led groups for self-compassion & mindfulness and for formerly incarcerated adults
- Participated in weekly didactic workshops and case presentations
- Training focuses in sexual assault and developmental trauma

Practicum Counselor

Capital Area Counseling

Supervisor: Patricia R. Stuart, Ph.D.

2015–2018

Austin, TX

Capital Area Counseling is a community mental health center that provides reduced-cost outpatient therapy services to diverse clients from the Austin community. As a practicum therapist, I provided individual and couples psychotherapy to an underserved client population presenting with a range of concerns, including mood and anxiety disorders, personality disorders, interpersonal concerns, sexuality and gender concerns, and trauma.

Highlights of experience:

- Long-term psychotherapy with a diverse and primarily lower-income clientele
- In-depth work with clients with severe mental illness, impulse control disorders, paraphilic disorders, and substance use disorders
- Preliminary training in couples therapy
- Training in the Hakomi Method of Mindfulness-Centered Somatic Psychotherapy
- Group therapy experience co-leading groups on self-compassion and interpersonal process

MENTAL HEALTH WORK EXPERIENCE

Clinical Research Assistant

2013–2014

The University of Texas Health Science Center – Houston
Developmental Neuropsychology Clinic

Houston, TX

This clinic provides comprehensive evaluations and treatments for children experiencing developmental, emotional, behavioral, or learning differences. In my work, I focused on autism assessment, treatment, counseling, and research.

Highlights of experience:

- Counseled parents of autistic children
- Collaborated with nationwide research personnel for large-scale and FDA research studies
- Intensively involved in clinical research
- Managed records and data for >200 patients
- Coordinated the clinic's team of research personnel, including study physicians, medical student interns, and undergraduate student interns

Suicide and Crisis Counselor Volunteer

2013–2014

Crisis Intervention of Houston

Houston, TX

CIH provides crisis counseling to diverse clients across the Southern U.S. through 10 hotlines. As a volunteer counselor, I provided counseling and referrals to clients struggling with suicidal ideation, serious mental illness, substance abuse, and housing instability.

Highlights of experience:

- Supervised other crisis counselors
- Served callers to the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline and National Hopeline Network
- Delivered educational presentations and trainings at Houston area schools and organizations

Crisis Counselor Volunteer

2010–2012

Rice Women's Resource Center

Houston, TX

The Women's Resource Center is a space and community that serves women and non-binary students at Rice University through resources, crisis management, education, and events.

Highlights of experience:

- Provided walk-in crisis services for students experiencing acute trauma, discrimination, unplanned pregnancy, and other concerns
- Planned and coordinated events related to sexual and mental health for gender minorities

MULTICULTURALISM AND CULTURAL HUMILITY

Developing in my cultural humility has been a key component of my training and values. Outside the counseling world, I lead a 10-week discussion group for multiracial folks pursuing antiracist action. Below I highlight training experiences I have sought in growing in my awareness and humility. Other related content can be found in my listed research experience.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Doctoral Graduate, Counseling Psychology	2014–2019
The University of Texas at Austin	Austin, TX
Supervisor: Aaron Rochlen, Ph.D.

The Counseling Psychology Ph.D. program at The University of Texas at Austin has been APA Accredited since 1953. In my graduate work, I led 5 first-author research studies and collaborated on several other studies as a research team member. My research centered on the construct of self-compassion and its role in depressive symptomatology, shoplifting behavior, men's mental health, and the coming out process in gay men. My dissertation was entitled The Psychology of Shoplifting: Empirical Development of a New Typology for Repeated Shoplifting.

Highlights of experience:

- Research team coordination and leadership
- Study design and methodology
- Quantitative and qualitative data analysis, including extensive experience with SPSS

- Manuscript and proposal writing
- Five journal publications and 5 conference presentations

Research studies:

- Effectiveness of a Brief Mindfulness and Emotional Intelligence Intervention, a study on the effectiveness of the Search Inside Yourself program on mindfulness, emotional intelligence, and workplace relationships and satisfaction
- Improving Women's Self-Compassion Through an Online Program: A Randomized Controlled Trial, a treatment study of an online self-compassion intervention
- The Psychology of Shoplifting: Empirical Development of a New Typology for Repeated Shoplifting, a dissertation on the varied individuals who shoplift, the potentially mitigating impact of self-compassion, and treatment
- Adaptive Mechanisms of Self-Compassion in Predicting Depression Symptoms, a quantitative study of the role of self-compassion in preventing depression
- Strong Words: Men's Subjective Experiences of Depression, a qualitative study of men's experiences of depression
- Men's Depression: Endorsed Experiences and Expressions, a quantitative research study of men's experiences and expressions of depression
- Process and Implications of Coming Out on Facebook, a qualitative, interview-based study on gay men's process of coming out using social media

Clinical Research Assistant

2013–2014

University of Texas Health Science Center Developmental Neuropsychology Clinic Houston, TX
Supervisor: Deborah A. Pearson, Ph.D.

The Developmental Neuropsychology Clinic at The University of Texas Health Center – Houston (now McGovern Medical School) provides comprehensive evaluations and treatments for children with developmental, emotional, behavioral, or learning concerns. My role involved extensive research work on five nationwide or FDA-sponsored studies.

Highlights of experience:

- Participant recruitment, screening, and intake assessments
- Regular follow-up with all active study participants
- Administered assessments related to developmental and learning differences
- Collaborated with the study sponsors, study monitors, third-party monitors, and IRB
- Conducted quantitative data analysis
- Prepared manuscripts and presentations

Research studies:

- An Open-Label Extension Study of LUMINENZ-AT (CM-AT) in Children with Autism
- A Phase III Randomized Double Blind Placebo Controlled Trial of LUMINENZ-AT (CM-AT) in Children with Autism
- ADHD Symptoms in Autism: Cognition, Behavior, Treatment (NIMH Sponsored)
- A three-arm, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study of the efficacy and safety of two trough-ranges of everolimus as adjunctive therapy in patients with tuberous sclerosis complex (TSC) who have refractory partial-onset seizures
- Executive Function in Children with Hypertension

Research Assistant

University of Houston Attachment Lab
Supervisor: Katherine Ramos, Ph.D.

2013–2014
Houston, TX

The Attachment Lab (now Developmental Psychopathology Lab) focused on research applications of attachment theory. As a research assistant, I studied the role of attachment in adaptability to life transitions in both emerging and aging adults.

Highlights of experience:

- Led a research team of 3 University of Houston undergraduate students
- Conducted literature reviews and quantitative data analysis
- Prepared manuscripts and presentations

Research studies:

- Emerging Adults: Career Adaptability and Self-Perceptions in College to Career Transitions
- Developing an Improved Measure of Helping in College: Theoretical Considerations, Some Initial Findings, and Recommendations for Future Research
- A Comparison Study of the Career Transitions of Younger and Older Adults: Contributions of Adult Attachment Orientation and Career Adaptability

Research Assistant

Rice University
Supervisor: Michelle “Mikki” Hebl, Ph.D.

2012–2014
Houston, TX

The Hebl lab at Rice University focuses on diversity and discrimination, especially as they are maintained and remediated in occupational settings. With this lab, I led a first-author study on discrimination against gay men in hiring, and I contributed to other research projects through literature reviews, recruiting, coding, data analysis, and manuscript writing.

Research studies:

- Identification and Discrimination of Men’s Voices: Perceptions of Femininity and Sexuality
- Just Saying “No”: An Examination of Gender Differences in the Ability to Decline Requests in the Workplace
- A Study of Gender Differences in Mentorship and Attrition in STEM Fields
- Doubt Raisers in Letters of Recommendation for Female and Male Faculty
